

SOUTHERN COTTON MILLS.
More Than $22,000,000 Invested in New Looms and Spindles for 1910. Baltimore.—That the Southern cotton manufacturing industry had a steady advance during 1909 is emphasized by a review by the "Manufacturers' Record" of plans for new mills and the enlargement of established plants during the year. Cotton manufacturers of the South are realizing more and more the possibilities of their section for textile milling, and their frequent announcements of additions to spindles and looms give their faith in the future of the belt.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION ACTS.
Central Labor Organization in Washington Carries War To Congress. Washington.—Determined that the time has come for immediate relief from the prohibitive price of meat, the Central Labor Union has unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon congress to at once remove the duty on cattle and hogs.
This action on the part of local organized labor, representing not less than 35,000 of the inhabitants of the District of Columbia, is the most sweeping measure yet proposed in the country-wide protest against the meat trust. It followed the endorsement by the Central Labor Union of the National Anti-Food Trust League.
Such a stand by an organization representing in itself a great proportion of the population of the nation's capital, is but another indication that an aroused and enraged public means to force the beef barons to capitulate.

ELBA'S POSTAL BUSINESS.

The Biggest Day's Business Since The Office Has Been Established.

Last month Elba's post office broke all previous records for one day's work of rural carriers and also broke all records for total receipts for stamps sold. In one day the five carriers carried out mail to be delivered to the number of 1795 pieces. The gross receipts of the office for the present year have been so much larger than they were for the year preceding that it is certain that there will be an increase allowance made for the coming postal year for Elba post office for clerk hire and postmaster's salary.
Every year since Elba post office was made a presidential office there has been an increase of business; such an increase as to justify its being raised in class. It is said by experts along this line, that nothing shows business conditions, growth and progress like postal receipts. If this be true, and we have every reason to believe that it is, Elba has for a number of years showed a steady and gratifying growth.
It should be remembered in this connection that there has been at Elba no candidate for state office and no headquarters for any political movement. Frequently post offices show growth that is remarkable through selling a great many stamps to candidates living in their town, or through political organizations that have headquarters in their town. Elba has never been so fortunate as to have the benefit of these things in helping its postal growth. The growth here comes from the increase of people, the increase of correspondence, and the increase of business.

"That Victoria Spelling- Bee."
Eds. Clipper:—
In your last Tuesday's paper there appeared an item from Victoria giving an account of a "spelling bee" that was said to have taken place between the Mt. Zion and Victoria schools and from reading the article one would imagine that Mt. Zion "went in it."
But, as "the truth is the right" you would be kind enough to allow us a little space and we will tell your readers just how it was. It was something like this:
On one afternoon, not long back, the Victoria school with its vast army of "good spellers" came down very unexpectedly to spell the Mt. Zion school, and although their disturbance was an unexpected happening, immediately upon their arrival they were given due and nice reception. They were treated kindly and were given ample room and a showing to justify a fair, square spelling match, and the spelling soon began. And positively, in the short space of about ten minutes the very last cue of the Victoria match had been clipped out, and forced to their seat of defeat, although Mt. Zion had hardly started good. So is it not strange how Victoria can spell so much better at home than abroad.
MT. ZION GOES TO VICTORIA.
In order to return the favor Mt. Zion took her little band and pulled out for Victoria last Tuesday. When it came time for the spelling, Victoria, realizing how impossible it would be to out spell Mt. Zion under reasonable conditions, promptly began their mischief by trying to take advantage of all kinds of unfair rules and plans, but Mt. Zion was too wise to be caught in such a snare, and reserved the right not to spell, and did not spell. So there was no spelling bee at Victoria at all; it was a straight out geying match, and Mt. Zion ran Rex out of the back door and came home.

And thus ended that "what you might call it" at Victoria. Advanced.

I have not seen anything from this part of the county I send you a few notes.
Farmers are hauling guano and preparing for another crop.
Mr. G. L. Beach has moved over into beat 11.
Mr. Cleveland Wilson's mail route has been cut down to three days in the week. We hope the postal department will reconsider this matter and give us a daily mail.
Prof. C. H. Corbett has a flourishing school at New Hope. Some of his students stood examination in December to get license to teach.
Politics are warming up some in these parts. We hear that J. T. Eagerton is being urged to make the race for sheriff. He is a good man and would make a good officer.
If you will just take Kodol now and then you need not fear or hesitate to eat all the good foods that you want. Kodol will digest whatever you eat. Kodol is for weak and sour stomachs. Kodol is pleasant to take and is guaranteed to give relief at once. Sold by City Drug Co.

JUDGE S. N. ROWE ANNOUNCES.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of Judge Rowe for re-election as Probate Judge of Coffee County. Judge Rowe needs no introduction at our hands to the people of the county. He was born and reared in this county and his life and record are an open book to the people of the county.
Judge Rowe was reared on the farm, and in early manhood removed to Elba, where he engaged in the mercantile business. He always did a thriving business, yet he never amassed wealth rapidly as some merchants do. As to how he dealt with his customers, it is said that when he first entered political life his strongest support came from those who had done business with him when he had been in the mercantile business. This was, indeed, complimentary to his manner of doing business.
In his race six years ago for the office he now holds, Judge Rowe received a very flattering vote over popular and able opponents. During his tenure of office he has started close to the people and has ever had their interest at heart. Judge Rowe came into office at a time of stress in county financial matters. The county owed court house warrants to the amount of about $40,000.00, and in addition it owed a bonded debt of considerable size, contracted many years ago for the building of iron bridges in the county. All of the court house warrants have been paid except one, when will fall due a short while after Judge Rowe's present term ends; so that he can feel that during his term of office the county has retired the bulk of its court debts.
Not only is this so, but Judge Rowe's financial ability has stood the county in good stead in other ways all during his term. The court of the county have been very expensive, largely owing to the fact that the grand juries of the county for a considerable portion of the time were drawn under an unconstitutional law and much of the work they did had to be done over. Then during Judge Rowe's term the courts at Enterprise were installed, involving the fitting up of a building and the purchase of a large number of books and other court house paraphernalia. This expense, amounting to many thousands of dollars, has been met out of current income and has been so wisely handled, that what would have required a bond issue in most counties has been speedily paid up and gotten behind. In addition to these achievements, many new bridges have been built in the county and the payments on the bonded indebtedness of the county have been made as they fell due.
In the recording, indexing and handling of public business generally, Judge Rowe has had no superior, despite the fact that his work can not be done as easily as Probate Judges' work can be done in most counties, on account of the fact that he has two offices. He has kept his records up to date and has done the public's business with commendable promptitude.
In the Commissioners Court his counsel is wise. As judge of the Infant's Court he dispays the soundest learning and discretion. He handles the unpleasant work of habeas corpus hearings with discretion, justice, and good legal ability. A number of cases have been appealed from his decisions to the Supreme Court, and in each and every one of them, Judge Rowe's decision has been affirmed. This record is one of which any judge in the land might well be proud.

Postmaster Mullins is in receipt of the following letter from the Postmaster General:
The Postmaster,
December 10, 1909.
Sir:
From a recent count made by rural carriers in one of the counties in the state of New York of coins deposited by patrons in their boxes for the purchase of stamps supplies, it was found that each carrier in the county was collecting an average of 115 one-cent coins each week. This average applied to all the routes in operation throughout the country would give the enormous total of about 800,000,000 one-cent coins.
As most of these coins are deposited loose in boxes, it is desirable that you and the rural carriers, in a tactful and polite way, put forth your best efforts to induce patrons to provide themselves with stamp supplies in advance of their needs, and to equip their boxes with suitable coin-holding receptacles. It should be explained to patrons that the picking of loose coins from boxes not only results in needless hardship and suffering to carriers in winter, delays the delivery and collection of the mail, but frequently results in actual money loss to the carriers, for it, in collecting coins from boxes, they drop them into the snow or on the ground without recovery, they are required to replace the amount out of their own funds.
If it can be done without expense to the Department, announcement of the foregoing should be made in your local paper.
Respectfully,
P. V. D. Graw.
Fourth Assistant P. M. Gen.

The Clipper cannot make any attempt to give the comings and goings of the various candidates. They are nearly all on these days and are about as common as grocery drummers. The fact is, the Clipper expects, that lots of them would rather not have their travels too much talked of in the paper. By-the-way, there never was a cleverer bunch than is offering for office in Coffee County and we wish that all of them could be elected, but of course this cannot be.

If you got a sample copy of The Clipper it is an invitation to subscribe. Do so.
